The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience!

Due to the coronaviruses, it is uncertain if and when you can go abroad. Still, we would like to give you an overview of our programmes. The Student Abroad website shows you the most up-to-date options available if you want to spend a period of time abroad as part of your degree programme at the UvA. There are options available for both Bachelor’s and Master’s students from academic studies, internships and conferences to conducting research abroad.

Whether you want to go for a couple of weeks, a semester or an entire year, there is something for you. Also if you are considering doing a full Master’s degree programme abroad, you will find all the information you need here.

Visit studyabroad.uva.nl to see the current possibilities.

Student exchange

In an exchange, students are ‘exchanged’ between two universities. Agreements have been made regarding entry requirements, the length of the study period and the number of students that can be exchanged per year. As a UvA student, you pay tuition fees to the UvA and you will not have to pay tuition fees to the host university.

There are two types of exchanges:

Faculty and Erasmus exchange programmes

Faculty exchange programmes are agreements between a UvA faculty and a faculty at an abroad university. There is exchange possibilities both within and outside Europe, although most faculty exchange take place within Erasmus part of the Erasmus programmes. In many cases grants are available for this.

Global Exchange Programme

There are also cross-faculty exchanges between universities. This means that students from all disciplines are eligible for these exchange programmes. The Global Exchange Programme is coordinated by the Office of International Student Affairs (BIS).

Further information on exchange programmes can be found at studyabroad.uva.nl/exchange
The University of Amsterdam is actively involved in a number of international networks. Universities collaborate in these networks in many different areas, including in exchange programmes, summer programmes and student networks. They exchange students, and you can gain valuable experience as a coach or buddy or as a committee or board member. For more information, visit: erasmusstudentnetwork.nl

Erasmus Student Network (ESN)

The Erasmus Student Network (ESN) is an international student community in universities from the capitals of Europe (UNICA). Universities from the Capitals of Europe (UNICA)

Erasmus Student Network (ESN)

The Erasmus Student Network (ESN) is an international student community in universities from the capitals of Europe (UNICA). Universities from the Capitals of Europe (UNICA)

Visit: esn-amsterdam.nl

The University of Amsterdam is actively involved in a number of international networks. Universities collaborate in these networks in many different areas, including in exchange programmes, summer programmes and student networks. They exchange students, and you can gain valuable experience as a coach or buddy or as a committee or board member. For more information, visit: erasmusstudentnetwork.nl

Erasmus Student Network (ESN)

The Erasmus Student Network (ESN) is an international student community in universities from the capitals of Europe (UNICA). Universities from the Capitals of Europe (UNICA)

Visit: esn-amsterdam.nl
Other international opportunities

If you do not want to study abroad for an entire semester or year, check out the wide range of other international opportunities that offer something for everyone. You can participate in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at: studyabroad.uva.nl > other international opportunities

Spending some time abroad during your degree programme has many benefits. We have listed five good reasons:

• getting to know a country from the inside
• learning a new language
• meeting people from different cultures
• enhancing your personal development
• different perspectives on your field of study
• improving your chances of admission to a selective or international Master’s programme

Advice

It is important that you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

World Map

The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will give you an overview of the programmes available in that country, and how to apply. worldkaart-uva.nl

Information sessions

Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events

 Orientation, advice and application

Preparation

Apply with a plan B

To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be included in your preferred destination. So make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters

Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters

Student Careers Centre

Careers advisors can help you explore the options available, support you in making choices as to where you want to go. They can assist you in achieving your academic and career goals. During a workshop or individual meeting, you will gain greater insight into your reasons for going abroad to study or do an internship (or for a job).

Student counselors

If you spend part of your studies abroad, you may be eligible for a grant. Student counselors can help you with your financial planning and with the application for scholarships and funds.

Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will give you an overview of the programmes available in that country, and how to apply. worldkaart-uva.nl

Advice

It is important that you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

World Map

The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will give you an overview of the programmes available in that country, and how to apply. worldkaart-uva.nl

Information sessions

Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events

Orientation, advice and application

Even though you have to apply in time, there is often time to make changes later. Make sure you make any changes to your study schedule well in advance, or before a deadline.

It is important that you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

World Map

The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will give you an overview of the programmes available in that country, and how to apply. worldkaart-uva.nl

Information sessions

Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events

Orientation, advice and application

Even though you have to apply in time, there is often time to make changes later. Make sure you make any changes to your study schedule well in advance, or before a deadline.
Why go abroad?

Hot on the heels of a successful semester abroad, Midas van der Zande shares his story. A student of geography from the Netherlands, Midas studied at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver Canada. "One of the unique experiences that the exchange has offered me. The beautiful nature and wildlife in Jasper National Park."

Spending some time abroad during your degree programme has many benefits. We have found five good reasons:

• getting to know a country from the inside
• learning a new language
• meeting people from different cultures
• enhancing your personal development
• gaining workplace experience and enables you to put your theoretical knowledge into practice.

Internships and research

An internship abroad gives you actual workplace experience and enables you to put your theoretical knowledge into practice. International experience will benefit your CV, while expanding your network will improve your chances of success on the international job market.

Advice

If you want to obtain work experience, you can participate in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at studyabroad.uva.nl > internships and research

Orientation

It is important that you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

Student careers centre

Student counsellors

If you spend part of your studies abroad, you may be eligible for a (partial) grant.

Student careers centre

If you are interested in a university that is part of the Global Exchange Programme, you can start by asking them questions about the faculty. They can give you specific advice on your international plans and how they fit with the curriculum. You can also ask them questions about the faculty exchange programmes.

Office of International Student Affairs

Are you interested in an university that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programme, you would like further information on a specific destination, or do you have questions? Please feel free to contact the Office of International Student Affairs (IBS), the UvA central office for international student mobility.

Apply with a plan B

To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. So make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters

Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters

If you need help with the administrative and practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters
Other international opportunities

If you do not want to study abroad for an entire semester or year, check out the wide range of other international opportunities that offer something for everyone. You can participate in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at: studyabroad.uva.nl > other international opportunities

Internships and research

An internship abroad gives you actual workplace experience and enables you to put your theoretical knowledge into practice. International experience will benefit your CV, while expanding your network will improve your chances of success on the international job market. It can also be an invaluable learning experience which can enhance your personal development.

Spending some time abroad during your degree programme has many benefits. We have listed five good reasons:

- Improving your chances of admission to a selective or international Master’s programme
- Enhancing your personal development
- Gaining greater insight into your reasons for choosing this career
- Meeting people from different cultures
- Learning a new language

Advice

Although you yourself are responsible for exploring your options and arranging your application, there are a number of departments that can help you with this. You can find a list of those at studyabroad.uva.nl > contacts.

Study adviser and faculty International Office

Once you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

World Map

The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will tell you the type of agreement in place, and how to apply. (worldkaart-uva.nl)

Information sessions

Attending an information session is a good first step to your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at: studyabroad.uva.nl > events.

Social media

Like to learn more about other students’ experiences? Check out their stories and photos on Facebook, Instagram or the Digital World Map.

(www.facebook.com/uvabeststudyexchange Instagram:instagram.com/uvabeststudyexchange)

To explore a wide range of topics related to studying abroad, (www.worldkaart-uva.nl)

Orientation

To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. Make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters

Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters.

Student Careers Centre

Careers advisers can help you explore the options available, support you in making choices that are right for you. They can assist you in achieving your academic and career goals. During a workshop or individual meeting, you will gain greater insight into your reasons for going abroad to study or do an internship (or for a job).

Student counsellors

If you spend part of your studies abroad, you may be eligible for a (partial) grant. Student counsellors can help you with your financial planning and with the application for scholarships and funds.

Office of International Student Affairs

Are you interested in a university that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. Make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Office of International Student Affairs

Are you interested in an university that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. Make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Other international opportunities

You can participate in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at: studyabroad.uva.nl > other international opportunities

*One of the unique experiences that the exchange has offered me. The beautiful nature and wildlife in Jasper National Park, Canada."

---

Midas van der Zande, on exchange at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver Canada.

Midas van der Zande, on exchange at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver Canada.
Other international opportunities
If you do not want to study abroad for an entire semester or year, check out the wide range of other international opportunities that offer something for everyone. You can take part in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at studyabroad.uva.nl > international opportunities.

Interimships and research
An interim abroad gives you actual workplace experience and enables you to put your theoretical knowledge into practice. International experience will benefit your CV, while expanding your network will improve your chances of success on the international job market. In case you are interested in conducting research at a university or institute abroad, consult your study advisor or the lecturers and professors involved in your degree programme. More information on this is available online: studyabroad.uva.nl > internships and research.

Why go abroad?
Top reasons for going abroad:
• improving your chances of admission
• a different perspective on your field
• enhancing your personal development
• meeting people from different cultures
• learning a new language
• gaining work experience outside the Netherlands
• getting to know a country from the inside

Orientation, advice and application
We advise you to make an early start with your orientation process, such as choosing a study abroad programme. More information on this is available online: studyabroad.uva.nl > orientation.

Advice
It is important that you have a clear picture of where you want to go, what you want to do, and what your goals are. Exploring your options takes time. Begin your orientation process well in advance, and carefully check the application deadlines. For most programmes, you will need to apply anywhere from six months to more than a year in advance before leaving the Netherlands.

World Map
The Digital World Map provides an overview of all the exchange programmes. Clicking on the different destinations will tell you the type of agreement in place, and how to apply. worldkaart.uva.nl

Information sessions
Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events.

Ortation
Advice
Although you yourself are responsible for exploring your options and arranging your application, there are a number of documents that can help you with this. You can find a list of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > contact.

Study advisor and faculty International Offices
Once you have an idea about what you want to spend your time abroad, it is a good idea to get in touch with your study advisor or with the International Office at your faculty. They can give you specific advice on your international plans and study abroad programme. They can also ask them questions about the faculty exchange programmes.

Student Counsellors
If you spend part of your studies abroad, you may be eligible for a (partial) grant. Student counsellors can help you with your financial planning and with the application for scholarships and funds.

Student Careers Centre
Counsellors can help you explore the options available, support you in making choices that are right for you. They can assist you in achieving your academic and career goals. During a workshop or individual meeting, you will gain greater insight into your reasons for going abroad to study or do an internship (or for a job).

Student counsellors
If you spend part of your studies abroad, it is a good idea to get in touch with your study advisor or with the International Office at your faculty. They can give you specific advice on your international plans and study abroad programme. They can also ask them questions about the faculty exchange programmes.

Office of International Student Affairs
Are you interested in an internship that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programmes, would you like further information on a specific destination, or do you have questions? Please feel free to contact the Office of International Student Affairs (IBS), the UvA central office for international student mobility.

Advice
Apply with a plan B
To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. So make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters
Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters.

Other international opportunities
If you do not want to study abroad for an entire semester or year, check out the wide range of other international opportunities that offer something for everyone. You can take part in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at studyabroad.uva.nl > other international opportunities.

Midas van der Zande
Midas van der Zande, on exchange at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver Canada.

Spending some time abroad during your degree programme has many benefits. We have listed five good reasons:
• getting to know a country from the inside
• learning a new language
• meeting people from different cultures
• enhancing your personal development
• a different perspective on your field

Social media
Like to learn more about other students’ experiences? Check out their stories and photos on Facebook, Instagram or the Digital World Map. facebook.com/uvaeuexchange instagram.com/uvaglobal worldkaart.uva.nl

Information sessions
Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events.

Ortation
Advice
Although you yourself are responsible for exploring your options and arranging your application, there are a number of documents that can help you with this. You can find a list of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > contact.

Study advisor and faculty International Offices
Once you have an idea about what you want to spend your time abroad, it is a good idea to get in touch with your study advisor or with the International Office at your faculty. They can give you specific advice on your international plans and study abroad programme. They can also ask them questions about the faculty exchange programmes.

Office of International Student Affairs
Are you interested in an internship that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programmes, would you like further information on a specific destination, or do you have questions? Please feel free to contact the Office of International Student Affairs (IBS), the UvA central office for international student mobility.

Advice
Apply with a plan B
To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. So make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters
Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters.

Other international opportunities
If you do not want to study abroad for an entire semester or year, check out the wide range of other international opportunities that offer something for everyone. You can take part in a global challenge as part of an international team, attend a student conference, or take part in one of the many summer schools that are on offer. These are just a few examples. You can find an overview of the options available to you at studyabroad.uva.nl > other international opportunities.

Midas van der Zande
Midas van der Zande, on exchange at Simon Fraser University, Vancouver Canada.

Spending some time abroad during your degree programme has many benefits. We have listed five good reasons:
• getting to know a country from the inside
• learning a new language
• meeting people from different cultures
• enhancing your personal development
• a different perspective on your field

Social media
Like to learn more about other students’ experiences? Check out their stories and photos on Facebook, Instagram or the Digital World Map. facebook.com/uvaeuexchange instagram.com/uvaglobal worldkaart.uva.nl

Information sessions
Attending an information session is a good first step in your orientation process. Over the course of the year, a number of information meetings will be held to inform you about the various options for studying abroad. You can find details of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > events.

Ortation
Advice
Although you yourself are responsible for exploring your options and arranging your application, there are a number of documents that can help you with this. You can find a list of these at studyabroad.uva.nl > contact.

Study advisor and faculty International Offices
Once you have an idea about what you want to spend your time abroad, it is a good idea to get in touch with your study advisor or with the International Office at your faculty. They can give you specific advice on your international plans and study abroad programme. They can also ask them questions about the faculty exchange programmes.

Office of International Student Affairs
Are you interested in an internship that is part of the Global Exchange Programme or the Global Short Term Programmes, would you like further information on a specific destination, or do you have questions? Please feel free to contact the Office of International Student Affairs (IBS), the UvA central office for international student mobility.

Advice
Apply with a plan B
To be eligible for an Erasmus exchange, Global Exchange Programme or Global Short Term Programme, you will need to compile a personal portfolio. Students will be selected on the basis of this portfolio, and there is no guarantee that you will be placed in your preferred destination. So make sure to have a plan B, and remember to check the various application deadlines.

Practical matters
Studying abroad often costs more than studying in the Netherlands, and you will have to make a lot of arrangements yourself. You can find information and tips on a wide range of practical matters relating to studying abroad (finance, language, visa, accommodation and insurance) at: studyabroad.uva.nl > practical matters.
The University of Amsterdam is actively involved in a number of international networks. Universities collaborate in these networks in many different areas, including in exchange programmes, summer programmes and student networks.

Erasmus Student Network (ESN)

If you would like to be part of the international student community in Amsterdam, consider joining ESN. It is a great way to get to know international students, and you can gain valuable experience as a coach or buddy or as a committee or board member. For more information, visit: esn-amsterdam.nl

International networks

The University of Amsterdam is a member of a number of international networks. Universities collaborate in these networks in many different areas, including in exchange programmes, summer programmes and student conferences.

Universitas 21

uva.nl/ambassadors

Erasmus Student Network (ESN)

www.unica-network.eu

Lisbon Portugal.

Mayra Werger, on exchange at Nova School of Business and Economics, Portugal.

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

www.unica-network.eu

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to

Study abroad

What are your options?

The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to choose the programme that suits you best. Do you want to
The first step on the road to an unforgettable experience is to consider your options. Due to the corona virus, it is uncertain if and when you can go abroad. Still, we would like to give you an overview of the programmes. The Study Abroad website shows you the most up-to-date options available if you want to spend a period of time abroad at your part of the programme. There are also Erasmus exchange options available for both Bachelor’s and Master’s students from academic studies, internships and conferences to conducting research abroad. Whether you want to go for a couple of weeks, a semester or an entire year, there is something for you. Also if you are considering doing a full Master’s programme abroad, you will find all the information you need here. Visit studyabroad.uva.nl to see the current possibilities.

Student exchange
In an exchange, students are ‘exchanged’ between two universities. Agreements have been made regarding entry requirements, the length of the study period and the number of students that can be exchanged per year. As a UvA student, you pay tuition fees to the UvA and you will not have to pay tuition fees to the host university.

There are two types of exchanges:

Faculty exchange programmes
Faculty exchange programmes are agreements between a UvA faculty and a faculty at a university abroad. These exchange possibilities both within and outside Europe, although most faculty exchanges take place within Europe. The Global Exchange Programme is coordinated by the Office of International Student Affairs (BIS).

Further information on exchange programmes can be found at studyabroad.uva.nl – exchanges.